Desperadoes believed within Texas police net

STEPHENVILLE, Tex. (UPI) -Highway patrolmen today found evidence of a burglary and soiled clothes in a farmhouse, proof that three violent escaped convicts remained inside a tightening circle of law officers.

Police said the clothes were in a small house northwest of the city. It appeared the three convicts-suspected of killing two persons, wounding five and raping two women - had changed

McCarthy may seek presidency

CHICAGO (UPI) - Former Sen .-Eugene McCarthy, who unsuccessfully sought the 1968 tial nomination, says ne will run as a presidential candidate for a new national political group "unless a more desirable candidate comes along."

McCarthy told a news conference Sunday he was appointed chairman of the newly formed organization - the Committee for a Constitutional Presidency -that will campaign for independent presidential and vice presidential candidates.

The one-time peace presidential candidate said he was willing to run if a more qualified candidate cannot be found.

McCarthy charged that the Johnson and Nixon administrations produced "wholesale usurpations of power by the chief executive."

Sheriff's deputies said a man fitting the description of one of the convicts was seen at 9 a.m. 10 miles north of Stephenville, and officers moved roadblocks and officers into that area. It was the first confirmed sighting since 3 a.m. Sunday when the convicts held up

Officers believe the convicts spent the night in the burglarized house, located on a dirt road four to five miles from a paved highway north of Stephenville.

The farmhouse, apparently one of many abandoned by frightened residents, was within the five-mile circle where the convicts were stopped in a 1,000-mile, four-day dash from the Colorado State Penitentiary to seek revenge against Texans who had helped send them to prison.

"They've cut a swath all the way across New Mexico and most of Texas, murdering, raping and robbing and these people would not hesitate a damn minute to kill you," Texas Department of Public Safety Lt. Nelson Higginbotham warned a new group of officers that joined roadblocks and search crews today. "I think they'd rather kill an officer than anybody, but they'd just as soon kill anybody that gives them any trouble whatever. What they have now, I don't know. They could have 40

A 16-year-old Chino youth is being held in San Bernardino County Juvenile Hall on suspicion of felony hit-andrun driving in connection with the double fatality accident, police said.

Mrs. Laura Cota, 73, and her daughter Mrs. Mary Rodrigues, both of 8351 Chino-Corona Rd., Corona, were pronounced dead on arrival about 12:30 According to Chino police the two women were crossing Riverside Drive, when a car driven by the youth westbound on Riverside Drive went through the intersection. The car dragged nearly 90 feet under the car. hit both women, one being tossed 73 feet across the road and the other

Police said the car traveled another two blocks and was abandoned by the driver on Fifth Street when the engine stalled. Police and firemen rushed to the scene, but both women were dead. A short time after the accident the his father, came into the Chino police station to turn himself in. Police said they were unable to release the name of the youth because of a Supreme Court decision barring public identification of any juvenile suspected of a criminal offense.

Valley hit-run accident

Police said that a blood alcohol sample was taken from the youth to determine if the youth had been drinking or had suffered from any physical impairment at the time of the accident. Police officers said the youth may have panicked after the accident, but went home and told his father.

Police detectives said this morning they are continuing the accident investigation. Officers said it was not yet known how fast the hit-and-run vehicle was traveling at the time of the accident, and no skid marks were left in the intersection. Officers said Mrs. Cota and her daughter just prior to the accident had been in attendance at a dance at the DES Hall at Seventh and D streets.

Funeral arrangements are pending for Mrs. Cota and Mrs. Rodriques at Griffith Mortuary in Chino.

Ford will hold first news parley

WASHINGTON (UPI) - President Ford convened his Cabinet today to set firm dates for the forthcoming economic summit conference and to begin work on the agenda in hopes of stopping growing inflation.

Ford will hold his first news conference Wednesday on national television and radio. He tentatively set 2:30 p.m. EDT for the conference.

In advance of the Cabinet meeting, Ford conferred with Kenneth Rush, chairman of the steering committee on the summit conference, and William Seidman, its executive director. Ford plans to preside at some of the summit sessions and to increase public exposure. Some of the meetings may be

The summit was expected to be held at the end of September or the beginning of October.

U.N. post for Tom Kuchel?

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) - Former U.S. Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel of California is in line to become U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, the San Francisco Examiner reported today.

The newspaper quoted a "highly placed diplomatic source" as saying Kuchel was due to succeed John Scali in the U.N. post in the near future.

Kuchel, 64, a Republican, was appointed to the Senate seat vacated by Richard Nixon when he became vice president in 1952. Kuchel served in the Senate for 16 years until he was defeated in the GOP primary in 1968 by former state schools superintendent Dr. Max Rafferty, who in turn was defeated by Democrat Alan Cranston.

BERKELEY SPRINGS, W. Va. (UPI) - Authorities said today at least 12 persons died in a fast-spreading fire Sunday which destroyed an old hotel and seven business places in a city

"We have found eight bodies and expect to find four more-possibly there could be a fifth but we don't think so," said a spokesman for the Morgan County sheriff's office.

All the victims of the Sunday blaze were staying at the Washington House Hotel, a 150-year-old, four-story brick and wood structure. The bodies were burned beyond recognition.

Authorities said there were 23 guests in the hotel when the fire broke out. Ten escaped and the remainder were missing or dead. Five of the guests came to the hotel to bathe in the famed mineral waters and the remainder were local residents.

A state police spokesman said no one would be identified until all of the missing persons were located.

WOODLAND HILLS, Calif. (UPI) -Actor Otto Kruger was reported "holding his own" today at the Motion Picture and Television Hospital where he has been under treatment since he suffered a stroke Aug. 10.

Kruger, 88, appeared in such films as "High Noon" and "Sex and the Single Girl."

Butz warns against panic, however

Food costs to continue up in

WASHINGTON (UPI) - Government experts said today food prices will continue to climb into 1975 but Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz said he was hopeful they could be kept below the 15 per cent increase predicted for this

The increase in food prices is contributed in part to the drought which struck Midwest crops this summer. Despite the crop reductions, Butz told a news conference "there is absolutely no basis for panic about the food supply in 1974 and 1975."

Agriculture economists predicted last week that retail food prices will average about 15 per cent above what they were in 1973 -3 per cent higher than predicted before. Today they said further price increases probably will hit consumers in the first half of 1975.

Asked about the potential size of next year's increase, Butz said it was hard to predict because of uncertainties about the general rate of inflation.

"But at the moment we don't anticipate anything like 10 per cent," he Butz said price increases next year will be restrained by the influence of the nation's huge and still growing cattle herd. He said beef production will rise next year to offset drops in other livestock foods.

Butz and his aides, including chief department economist Don Paarlberb, emphasized there is great uncertainty in the outlook for food prices over the next 18 months because of unknowns including future weather conditions, world demand and the future rate of

no-fault auto insurance bill coming to vote

SACRAMENTO (UPI) - California lawmakers have dusted off a no-fault automobile insurance bill for consideration in the final week of the legislature's first two-year session.

Senators and Assemblymen also have mapped action on measures to roll back requirements for anti-smog devices on used cars, financial aid to the Bay Area Rapid Transit District (BART)-all before the clock strikes midnight Friday.

If the deadline isn't met, the clock may be stopped as in previous years and legislators will pretend time has not run out.

The no-fault bill (AB50) by Assemblyman Jack Fenton, D-Montebello, languished in committee a year and a half, but was scheduled for a Senate floor vote Tuesday.

Floor sponsor Sen. Alfred Song, D-Monterey Park, confidently predicted passage in the upper house.

The Senate Finance Committee planned to consider a similar measure by Assemblyman John Foran, D-San Francisco, early in the week.

Both are "modified" no-fault plans. Under pure no-fault, motorists collect from their insurance companies for car repairs and personal injury costs, regardless of who caused the accident.

The Fenton bill would allow mctorists to sue in court for extra damages in case of death, disfigurement, serious impairment of a bodily function or disability of more than 45 days.

It would also mandate a 15 per cent premium reduction in the first year for personal injury coverage.

A compromise bill carrying the endorsement of a majority of Bay Area legislators designed to bail out BART is slated for an Assembly Ways and Means Committee hearing Tuesday.

The legislation would extend a local one-half cent sales tax until 1978. Without passage, some lawmakers say BART will shut down this fall because of a lack of funds.

Also before Ways and Means is a bill to abolish a requirement that 3.8 million California motorists install $35 antismog devices on their 1966-70 cars.

The measure (SB2471) by Sen. John

Holmdahl, D-Oakland, has passed the Senate. It would remove a state Air Resources Board requirement that the so-called "nox" devices be installed over the next year.

The bill is opposed by environmentalists, who maintain the installations would cut nitrogen oxide pollution by 42 per cent on each car, thus reducing everall pollution 7 per cent.

The Senate Rules Committee is considering the appointments of Assemblyman Robert G. Wood, R-Greenfield, and Rudy Garcia, a former press assistant to Gov. Ronald Reagan, to fourvear terms as members of the Adult Authority.

The committee will air the nominations Wednesday. The full Senate must approve the appointments.

A compromise housing financing measure will be before the Senate Finance Committee. The bill (AB2966) by Assemblyman Peter Chacon, D-San Diego, is a compromise designed to meet the earlier objections by the gov-

Man attacked with billy club

A 55-year-old Upland man is being held on suspicion of attempted murder and mayhem in the West End Jail this morning after allegedly attacking another man with a billy club Saturday at 8143 Grove Ave., in Upland.

Kenneth Wayne Rybuen, 47, of the Grove Avenue address is listed in satisfactory condition with face and head lacerations in Montclair Doctors Hospital as a result of the attack.

According to sheriff's deputies, Robert Woodrow Woertink, 47, of 1350 San Bernardino Road, Upland, was booked in jail on the attempted murder and mayhem charges stemming from the Deputies said that Rybuen was at home about 4 or 5 a.m. Saturday morning when Woertink entered his residence and an altercation started over the victim's alleged involvement with the suspect's wife. During the altercation Woertink began striking Rybuen about the head and face with a billy club. Deputies were called to the scene and placed the suspect under arrest. Rybuen was rushed unconscious to the Montclair Hospital for treatment and was admitted.

Bodies exhumed in investigation

PETERSBURG, Va. (UPI) - Authorities expect to exhume the bodies of at least two more former Petersburg General Hospital patients and examine them for traces of lidocaine, the drug which a nurse's aide has been accused of using as a murder weapon in the death of 73-year-old woman.

Commonwealth's Attorney J. Thompsen Wyatt said Sunday he expects to exhume the bodies of two more of the 12 heart patients who died during a two-week period in June. The usual monthly death rate for the coronary care unit is half that number.

Former nurse's aide Lee Roy Hargrave Jr., 21, has been charged with the June 30 murder, by unauthorized injections of lidocaine, of Josephine Thomas, 73, of Petersburg.

After an autopsy showed Friday that another coronary unit patient, Thomas Wray, 85, of Dinwiddie County, died of a dose of lidocaine, Wyatt ordered further bodies exhumed and said he may seek a second murder indictment against Hargrave. Hargrave is being held in the Petersburg Correctional Center on $100,000 bond.

Wyatt said his investigation showed lidocaine was not prescribed for either Wray or Miss Thomas, and hospital officials said nurse's aides were not authorized to administer drugs to patients.

Parents say children brainwashed by cults

dondo Beach woman testified at a state Senate select committe hearing Saturday that she and her husband kidnaped their adult daughter from a religious cult because they believed she had been brainwashed.

"I was shocked by what I heard ... but I'm not sure whether the legislature can act because of the extreme dangers of treading on free speech and freedom of religion," said Sen. Mervyn Dymally, D-Los Angeles.

Dymally chaired the fact-finding committee looking into the alleged kidnapings and brainwashing of youths by religious cults.

Several dozen witnesses, including parents, children and cult members, testified about the workings of 12 splinter religious organizations on the West

Several parents testified they risked arrest to kidnap their adult offspring from so called "Jesus cults" that had allegedly brainwashed them.

Primary elections scheduled Tuesday

Oklahoma and Alaska hold primary elections Tuesday with an embattled incumbent Democrat seeking to retain the governorship in the Sooner State and a former Nixon cabinet member trying for a comeback in Alaska.

Oklahoma Gov. David Hall, under state and federal investigations for three years but never charged, is trying to become that state's first twoterm governor.

In Alaska, former Interior Secretary Walter Hickel is running for the Republican nomination to challenge incumbent Willim A. Egan for the governor's post that Hickel once held.

Hall, a 43-year-old silverhaired former prosecutor, has emerged without charge from investigations by county grand juries in Tulsa and Oklahoma City. A legislative committee last

Man, 79, injured by car, succumbs

A 79-year-old Pomona man, injured when he was hit by a car in Pomona July 28, died Saturday night at a rest

The victim, Clifford R. Weese, 620 S Linden St., was hit by a car driven by Juan Rivera, 16, 812 Hallwood Ave., Pomona. Police reported that Weese was crossing Towne Avenue at Sixth Street when he was hit.

The victim underwent surgery at Pomona Valley Community Hospital and was transferred to Churchman's Center, 250 W. Artesia St., Aug. 13.

The body was taken to Pollock Mortuary and an autopsy was ordered.

Market robbed by man wearing military jacket

A man dressed in a green military jacket, simulating a weapon in his jacket pocket, robbed the Stop and Go Market at 1880 E. Fourth Street in Ontario of a small amount of cash early this morning.

Ontario police said the man holding his hand in his pocket approached the sales counter and told the cashier. Linda M. Ledesma, 25, that he wanted the cash bag and money from the register. Miss Ledesma, fearing the man had a gun in his pocket, complied and handed the robber the money bag. Just before the robber fled he told the cahsier, "Better tell the 'pigs' I'm a Negro, or I'll come back and get you."

Police said the robber was described as a Caucasian, 18 to 20, with crew cut blond hair, wearing the military jacket, a white T-shirt and black pants.

Suicide try sparks blaze

SACRAMENTO (UPI) - Authorities today investigated suicide as a possible cause of a thunderous weekend gas expiosion at a two-story apartment building which left one person dead and 13

Killed in the Saturday night incident was Robert D. Babcock, 38, a former school teacher and resident of the south-area building.

Police and fire officials said the blast and subsequent fire were caused by natural gas in Babcock's No. 3 apartment.

One fireman was treated for leg burns. One woman suffered a broken leg. The other injured persons were treated and released from Sacramento Medical Center.

Damage to the 200-unit building complex was put at $125,000 by the manager. Sixteen apartments were gutted. Witnesses said the shock of the explosion was felt more than a half mile Babcock reportedly borrowed an adjustable wrench from a neighbor about an hour before the explosion. Babcock said he needed it to work on his car; but it was reported the man's car has been in a repair shop for several days.

Babcock was a former teacher at the Sierra Elementary School and the Freeport Elementary School for about 12 years until he resigned in January because of his health.

Women's equality day

Gals greet their day with 'so what' attitude

By C.W. ORR United Press International

Today is a holiday of sorts - Women's Equality Day, commemorating the 54th anniversary of women's suffrage.

Although one man thought the idea was a "good one" and wanted to take the day off to celebrate, many women surveyed by United Press International greeted the day with a so what attitude.

"I hardly think that President Ford's making it a holiday is going to make a difference," said Julie Kresen, 27, a health and legal researcher for the Chicago Women' Liberation Army.

"I think that Ford is so into establishing a new image. He's trying to be everybody's buddy. If it's sincere, that's great. But it probably is a PR (public releations) effort. I think we have to wait and see."

"I think it's kind of important, but it's tokenism," said Nancy Dawson, 23, a clerk in the Blue Shield office in San

"It's additional recognition of the women's movement, but I don't think it means there is really any sort of equality -in any field."

Susan Webb, a probation officer in Atlanta, said she had not heard acous women's equality day, but "if it does nothing else it calls attention to the fact that women are thinking about it." "I don't see that it's any worse than some of those other days we have,"

she said. Kathy Gasque of Atlanta said "I think they (men and women) should be equal, if they can do the job. But I don't think women should bitch about it if they can't." Kim Watson, an employe of the Baptist Home Mission Board in Atlanta, said she had heard about the day "on TV or something." She said, "I think it's pretentious of the government, or whoever it is -it's probably the government -to say 'Oh, we're going to have a national women's day,' and think that's going to help the rest of the year. And all the male chauvinists can stand up and say, 'Oh, we give you one day a year of freedom.' I think they ought to pass the Equal Rights Amendment." Eva Felton, 26, a key punch operator and mother from Countryside, Ill., said "It's all right to celebrate getting the vote, but all this liberation stuff.... "Now they want to take over men's jobs. I was ouite satisfied. I don't want to be a bus driver, or any of that."

The San Francisco NOW chapter staged NOW Olympics Saturday at Golden Gate Park with about 50 women entered in such events as soccer dribble and the mile run.

"This is a chance to see where I'm at compared to other women who run," said Diana McCurry, 29, a house-

Anne, Mark fall

WORKSOP, England (UPI) - Princess Anne and her husband, Capt. Mark Phillips, both fell off their horses Sunday in a jumping contest.

Anne, 24, fell off her mount, Goodwill, at the 11th fence of the Osberton Horse Trials. But she managed to hold on to the reins of the horse, owned by Queen Elizabeth II. Uninjured, she remounted to finish the course.

Phillips, 25, injured his wrist when his mount, George, threw him at the fifth fence.

Neither placed in the contest.

Will Charles?

LONDON (UPI) - Another blonde turned up today in the life of Prince Charles, the heir to the British throne whose brief friendship with platinum blonde Laura Jo Watkins of San Diego, Calif., was headline stuff here.

A crowd of 4,000 watching the royal family go to services at Crathie church in Scotland Sunday were intrigued by a pretty blonde walking with Queen Elizabeth, Queen Mother Elizabeth, Prince Philip and Prince Charles.

Today she was identified as Davina Sheffield, 23, a former debutante who ran a dress shop until recently. She was introduced to the prince by his sister, Princess Anne.

Miss Sheffield's widowed mother said the fact her daughter was a guest of the prince at Balmoral was not impor-

"If only they could be left alone to develop their friendship like ny other young people," she said.

"They don't want to admit it but the country is ready for a black Miss America," the 20-year-old Cheyenne girl said. "To win would be a natural high. I was discussing this with my brother and he said 'I wonder if this will ever be -to have the first black Miss America."

Ford to Afl

TOPEKA, Kan. (UPI) - Former GOP presidential candidate Alfred M. Landon Sunday said he received a telephone call Saturday from President Ford, leaving Landon at a loss as to why the President called.

"I really don't know why he called," Landon said at his home. "I think it's because it's getting close to my 87th birthday, (Sept. 7) and he commented briefly on that." The GOP's unsucessful 1936 candidate said he praised Ford for his actions so far. "I complimented him on the way he's handling national affairs with dispatch and working with the Congress, getting along with the Congress as well as he is," Landon said.

Pope gloomy

CASTELGANDOLFO, Italy (UPI) -Pope Paul VI Sunday presented a gloomy picture of a modern society suffering from vice, organized crime and the threat of war. But he urged mankind not to become pessimistic or skeptical because of society's ills.

The pontiff told a crowd of several thousands gathered beneath the balcony of his summer residence:

"We should be saddened and disheartened by the deformed and unhappy picture of the world in which we live: an epidemic of delinquency not only individual, but also, tragically, organized, (often) frighteningly criminal."

People in today's news Frisbee champs

PASADENA, Calif. (UPI) - You don't have to be a homemaker or a college student to be a frisbee champion, but both Joanne Cahow and Victor Malafronte fit the slots. Mrs. Cahow, 29, a homemaker from Ann Arbor, Mich., and Malafrom 27, a student at San Francisco State University, captured the women's and men's division championships during a three-day World Frisbee Championship at the Rose Bowl that ended Sunday.

Hunt continues for 5-year-old

LENNOX (UPI) - A search continued today for 5-year-old Ronald M. Smith, who was last seen Saturday afternoon as he was playing in a park

The boy was reported missing by his mother, Joann O'Connor, when he failed to show up for dinner Saturday evening. Deputies searched a twosquare mile area around the boy's home Saturday, and intensified the hunt Sunday, but no trace of the youth has been found.

hands on the "Doomsday Clock" have moved three minutes closer to midnight.

The clock, symbolizing how close mankind stands to nuclear holocaust, has appeared on the cover of the Bulletin of Atomic Scientists, published at the University of Chicago, since 1947. For six years after its inception, the clock stood at seven minutes to midnight. In 1953, after devlopment of the hydrogen bomb by the United States and the Soviet Union, the hands were moved up five minutes, where they stood until after the first Strategic Arms Limitation Talks. Since then, the Doomsday Clock has showed 12 minutes to midnight.

UPI Foreign News Analyst Among the far reaching problems pressing President Ford for early review is the question of Cuba.

For a dozen years the U.S. trade embargo has been in effect against the communist Cuba of Fidel Castro. Since has said he expects Venezuela 1964 the declared policy of the Organization of American States (OAS) has been to isolate Cuba, diplomatically and economically.

Now, however, the United States finds itself close to a minority position in the OAS and, as a policy matter, risking the same isolation is sought to impose on Cuba.

Despite denials by Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger, a shift in the U.S. position seems probable.

Rightly or wrongly, strong impetus to such speculation came from the visit to Cuba last July by Pat M. Holt, chief of staff of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Despite Kissinger's assertion that the State Department validated Holt's passport only "reluctantly" for his Cuban trip, the thought persisted that Kissinger's department had the U.S. Cuban policy under serious review.

In a report issued early this month, Holt concluded that the "United States policy of isolating Cuba has been a failure.'

He also concluded that Cubans would welcome better

Unique dental clinic attracts man armed with a revolver took approximately $3,500 from a teller at a Santa Fe patients from around nation

FLORENCE, S.C. (UPI) -Michael Grasso of Long Island sat in one of the parking lots of the Sexton Dental Clinic surrounded by cars, pickup trucks and campers from more than a dozen states.

That evening, he and his wife would be back on their way to Orlando, Fla., and Disney World. Right now, he was waiting on his wife to get a full set of dentures which would cost her $40. That compares to the $350 to $500 in New York.

"What we are saving on the teeth we are using for this vacation," Grasso said.

The clinic, founded 49 years ago, attracts thousands of out of state customers a year. It operates 24 hours a day, five and a half days a week, and a visitor can get his teeth extracted and be fitted with dentures in less than a day.

The clinic does no advertising but its 125 seats in the airconditioned waiting room are never vacant. Hundreds of persons wait outside for relatives or friends to get their dentures. Chartered buses wait in the parking lots.

"Everybody back home knows about this place," said N.C. Sapp who, along with Howard Walker, was on the way back to his car and a 400-mile trip back to Bradford,

Sapp and Walker were wearing their new dentures. Both agreed that the speed with which teeth are pulled

The clinic consists of three buildings and several parking lots near downtown Florence. One of the buildings is a combination waiting room and administrative office. In one small building dentures are checked for flaws and teeth are pulled in another.

Extractions cost $2 per tooth and most extractions take less than an hour. Patients are immediately fitted with their new dentures before their gums have a chance to swell.

Janet Reynolds of Akron, Ohio, waited in a car with her children, Brenda and Louis, for her husband, who has worn dentures for years, to get dentures before continuing on to Palm Beach, Fla. for a vacation.

"We heard about the clinic from word of mouth," she said. A lot of people don't believe this is true, that you can get dentures so cheaply.

"We were going to come last year but backed out. This year we decided to come ahead, figuring we were coming this way anyway and what could we lose at these prices."

There's music in the airski

By JOSEPH FIRMAN

The musical theater of Southern California must be one of the Seven Wonders of the World. From the Showcase Theater at Magic Mountain to the flashy fleshpots of San Diego, musical groups, rock bands, bluegrass combos and assorted soloists shriek and clatter in a year-round cacaphony.

Universal's Amphitheater, Knott's Berry Farm, the Greek Theater, Anaheim Convention Center, Disneyland, Swing Auditorium, Hollywood Bowl-even sedate Busch Gardens and demure little Japanese Village have succumbed to the sounds of music. The Big Bands are back, adding swing to soul, and rock has returned, adding beat to the blues. Make a joyful noise.

By contrast, the far-flung Union of Soviet Socialist Republics (USSR) boasts only 1,400 "Musik Kholl" productions, many of them little more than amateur nights or shoddy vaudeville staged by the social clubs of collective farms. Russia will never close the culture gap.

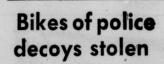

Like American television, the Soviet variety theater tries to appeal to all segments of the population, thereby watering down an evening's entertainment for the whole family. A typical night at Moscow's Hermitage Garden Theater will include a muscular Radio-City-like chorus line, a corny comic, a rock band of long-haired youths, jugglers, singers and tightrope artists. You get some notion of Russian tastes in the performing arts when you learn that the performances in the 1,500-seat theater are usually sold out.

In the past, in a noble gesture for international amicability, the United States has sent its talent to Russia-Louie, Ella, the Duke-in exchange for the Bolshoi Ballet and the Moscow Quartet. (They got the better of the deal.) We have sent them some of our top comics-Bob Hope, Red Skelton, Richard Nixon-in exchange for the Don Cossacks and the Ukranian Folk Dancers. But it's an uphill struggle to lift the Muscovite musical hall from the level of third-rate Minsky's.

Would we better or worsen our relationships with the other superpower if we sent them some of our popular noisemakers-Black Oak, Tower of Power, Chicago, Blue Magic, the Three Dog Night, the Who and the Guess Who and the Who's on First? What would they make of Z. Z. Top and Brownsville Station. We might try them with Liberace, but it could be dangerous. One bomb deserves another.

Pravda, the Big Brother of USSR journalism, has been chiding Russia's variety theaters for aping Western ways, but from the caliber of average presentations of the Soviet music halls, the suggestion is insulting.

We ought to send them Lucille Ball-with a one-way ticket.

NEW YORK (UPI) - Two plainclothes policemen were riding bicycles in Central Park recently, trying to nab bike thieves. Instead, two thieves stole their bikes and escaped in a hail of bullets.

Police said officers Carlo Cierva and James Silvia were on decoy patrol when one of the bikes broke down and they stopped to repair it. Two men, one pointing a gun, approached and demanded the bikes.

As the robbers started to ride off, the policemen identified themselves and pulled their guns. The armed bandit fired two shots and the officers fired six shots after

I would appreciate it if you could help us get our table. We would like to go on a vacation and we can't make up the rear bed without the table, as it is used for the center. - J. D.,

He has now offered to custom build a table for your motor home. In the meantime, you devised makeshift arrangements and

I recently began collecting empty cigarette packs to contribute to the use of kidney machines by children.

The store has now donated its top limit.

I would like to continue donating to this worthy cause.

Is there any place in this area where cigarette packs are being collected for kidney machines or any other helpful cause? - J. B., Pomona.

We learned that the collection at a Pomona store was organized by an employe who heard of the campaign third hand.

He had been turning the packs over to a friend in another city and thought that their ultimate destination was a hospital, possibly located in Venice.

We wrote to the Kidney Foundation of Southern California in an effort to get the facts.

Leonard Gottlieb, executive director, wrote back saying he had no information on the collection of cigarette packs.

He had checked several sources without results. Gottlieb would like to know who is conducting the campaign.

So would we. In this day and age it is surprising to come into contact with a business that is not out to take you to the cleaners.

I know very little about air conditioning a car except that it should make the car cool inside. Linay Auto-Air Conditioning was referred to me by the owner of another reputable local business. Thinking there was something wrong with the air conditioning in my car, I had my teen-age daughter take the car to Linay to repair it. She was prepared to pay for all repairs at the time of delivery. Linay took the dashboard of the car out and checked the air conditioning completely. The employes of the firm could find nothing wrong. They then delivered the car with no bill. They did not even charge for labor.

It is too bad we don't have more honest businessmen like that. - Mrs. B. C., Ontario.

It's also too bad that we don't have more efficient air conditioning systems.

Students help students

Teaching experiment 'successful'

Student teaching usually brings to mind fresh young college seniors eager to begin their careers, but in Chino there is another, totally different, concept emerging.

Three days a week, about 60 12-and 13-year-old junior high school students leave their own studies behind and, for a half-hour, become teachers on an individual basis with elementary school students.

The program is called cross-age teaching and is now into its third year. Mrs. Ina Mae Shryer, a history teacher at Ramona Junior High school. is coordinator for the program that is operated at Newman and E.J. Marshall elementary schools. The program begins with "volunteer" junior high school students who sign up for the program as an elective one-semester course. Each of the students, or "olders" as they are called in the program, is given two to three weeks of orientation in basic teaching principles, especially in the areas of math and spelling.

Each of the olders is then matched with an elementary student, or younger," according to personality and need for the type of individual help that classroom teachers cannot offer because of normal class size.

The younger students are selected to participate by their classroom teacher. but are not forced to take part if they do not want to. It is rare, however, said Mrs. Shryer, for the younger student to turn down the opportunity to participate.

"Close ties are often made and we've observed that some youngers relate so well to their olders that they can hardly wait for them to arrive," she said.

Normally, a bus carries the olders to the elementary school and they then go to the younger students' classroom to take them to the school cafeteria, where the instruction is given.

Sometimes, however, Mrs. Shryer laughed, the younger is standing at the curbside waiting for the bus to arrive.

Instruction is given each Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday morning. On Mondays and Fridays, Mrs. Shryer and the olders meet to discuss the youngers' progress and ways of handling any problems that might arise.

Each week the older makes a written report about the younger student's progress, which can be used by the younger's regular classroom teacher as well.

In addition to providing the individualized instruction and citizenship guidance the younger students cannot normally receive in the classroom, the program has a number of other bene-

"The olders develop an awareness and sensitivity to other people and their own responsibilities," said Mrs. Shryer. In some cases, she said, the older students even continue to help their young friends during vacation pe-

The specialized instruction also frees the regular classroom teacher to give other students in the class more individualized help.

Mrs. Shrver is hopeful that in time the program can be offered on a larger basis throughout the district.

"I have watched this program grow and have seen the satisfaction it brings to all involved-and it works," she emphasized.

"Young people make marvelous teachers.'

Smog standards will be adjusted

West End communities should have fewer smog alerts in the future because of a California Air Resources Board ruling that will adjust oxidant readings 20 per cent lower than present readings.

The adjusted readings will approximate readings of the same smog concentration made by the Los Angeles County Air Pollution Control District.

City will help restaurant mark grand opening

Approximately 300 Pomona city officials and businessmen will attend the opening celebration Tuesday evening for the new Chung King Chinese Restaurant at Third and Main streets.

Mayor Raymond Lepire will officially welcome the restaurant to its new quarters during the celebration from 7 to 9 p.m.

The restaurant, formerly located at 144 W. Fourth St., recently opened for business in a refurbished building. The ceremonies at the new location will include fireworks, a Chinese dragon and Chinese music.

A delegation of five dancers sent by the Chinese Chamber of Commerce in Los Angeles will perform at the celebration.

The civic officials and businessmen will dine free of charge at a Chinese buffet supper. Among those invited to the celebration, in addition to Mayor Lepire and the members of the Pomona City Council, are Robert Lewis. president of the Pomona Chamber of Commerce, Norman Williamson, past president of the chamber, and Fred Sharp, executive director of the Redevelopment Agency.

Board will hear plan to demolish school buildings

A report on a proposal to demolish the San Dimas Elementary School buildings using federal revenue sharing funds will be presented to the Bonita school board at its meeting Tuesday at 7:30 p.m.

Also scheduled are reports on a civil defense and disaster plan developed by teachers and administrators and courses for study for the three high schools and Ramona Intermediate School.

Discussion will be held on the impact of the carpenters strike on the second phase of Lone Hill Intermediate School. Delays have postponed the completion date of the school from this month to November.

Opinion

Rocky more than qualified

In calling Nelson Rockefeller a "good partner" for the President and for the country, Mr. Ford was expressing not only his conviction but a hope that all Americans will share.

Certainly Mr. Rockefeller's record in politics and public service gives him more than the customary qualifications for vice-presidential candidates. Mr. Ford's nomination of him confirms the President's earlier assertions that his choice would be primarily based on qualifications for stepping into the presidency itself.

At the same time, in political terms, it appears that Mr. Rockefeller would now be removed from contention as a Republican presidential opponent to Mr. Ford. And his nomination upsets the theory that Mr. Ford would be choosing a young man to groom as his successor in 1976 or 1980.

One particularly encouraging thing about appointing a man of Mr. Rockefeller's stature and maturity is that it signals a respect for the nation's second office which that office needs but has often been denied. With Mr. Rockefeller in the job, it clearly cannot be permitted to lapse into Alexander Throttlebottom's obscurity. Mr. Ford called the nomination "a tough call for a tough job," but Mr. Ford's challenge has not ended. It is vital that he define the functions of the position to use Mr. Rockefeller wisely and well.

The responsibility is Mr. Rockefeller's too, of course. For as was said by one of the previous presidents he served-Harry Truman-the vicepresidency is "one instance in which it is the man who makes the office, not the office the man.'

Mr. Rockefeller starts out on a surge of national goodwill in the atmosphere of faith and hope which he noted that Mr. Ford has "already reawakened." He has broad Washington experience — a reputation for vigorous infighting in the Roosevelt administration, a reputation for steady team play under Eisenhower. He has the long governorship of New York to help him understand and meet the needs of states and localities which have for so long felt neglected by Washington. A dozen years ago he was writing hopefully about the future of federalism, and he would be part of an administration going in that direction.

Though often labeled a liberal—and for that reason providing a certain balance to conservative Mr. Ford-Mr. Rockefeller has been sounding more conservative lately. Perhaps together they can achieve that genuine conservatism which does not resist progress but seeks to ensure a sound basis for it. With inflation designated domestic enemy No. 1 there is a feeling of reassurance in having a Rockefeller near the top, with all the name's echoes of financial acumen plus enlightened regard for human need.

Firehouse tour

There is a man from Manchester, England, who was once a long distance runner. He decided to walk across the United States, as he had his native land and the continent. The man's name is Bernard Hib-

At 55 years of age Hibbert took a six month leave from his job in England as a tool and die maker to make his walk. In advance, he wrote the U.S. Department of Transportation for assistance in devising a good route. They gave him one.

But then, at the outset of his walk from New York to the West Coast, Hibbert discovered America. When he reached New Jersey it was raining cats and dogs. What does a man do? Hibbert was taken in by the North Bergen, N.J. fire department who dried him out and gave him a revised itinerary. And so it went, from fire department to fire department across the country. New friends. A suggestion as to routing and finally he made it to the West Coast. in America, it's surprising. There's not a person I've Francisco: "It's pleasant, walking, and additionally, in America, its surprising. There's not a person I've met I wouldn't want to meet again."

Senator with sense

When the occasion demands, Senator Barry Goldwater usually has a pithy observation to offer.

Looking at the state of the national economy, Goldwater, the 1964 GOP presidential candidate, proposed a 10 percent cut in all federal salaries, starting with the President, and including congressmen, the military and everyone else on that payroll.

After a meeting with President Ford, Goldwater, as Ford has indicated, said he felt the country was headed for economic "disaster if we don't straighten things out." As to his suggestion, Goldwater said, "I don't know any other step to control monetary inflation.'

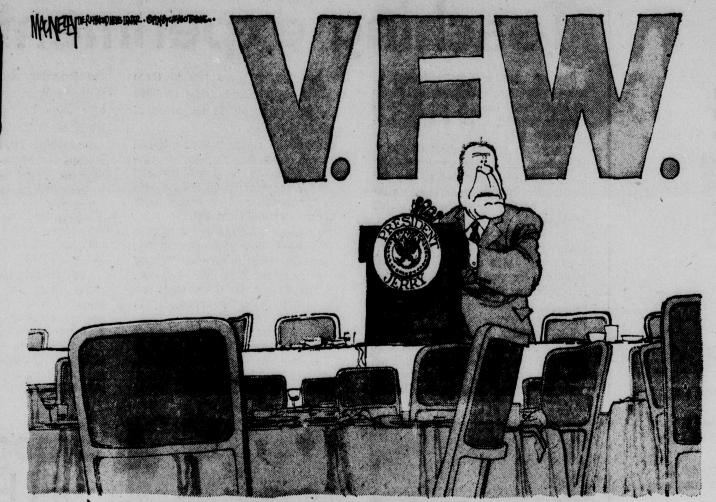

It is the king of belt tightening the nation must face up to-unless every paycheck is to become a meaningless piece of paper.

Do you want federal inspectors to examine your personal medical records whether you and your doctor like it or not? Federal super snoopers can do just that with newly created Professional Standards Review Organization (P.S.R.O.).

"Politicians created the oil shortage," stated Rep. John Rarick, "Now they're trying to create a medical shortage." "It would require the full year's output of eight medical schools to staff P.S.R.O.," the congressman

The newly passed P.S.R.O. bill tacitly admitted the coming medical shortage when it provided a means of lowering standards of the entire future medical profession to cover their government created gap in doctors.

Dr. Robert S. Jaggar, president of the Association of American Physicians and Surgeons said of P.S.R.O., "This is a vicious punitive law which will force physicians to practice medicine by averages. The aged, poor and disabled in America will suffer because they will be denied the best medical care doctors can give them."

Dr. Thomas B. Hayes of North Andover, Massachusetts, a surgeon for twenty years is quitting his practice because P.S.R.O. regulations limit the time his patients can stay in a hospital. "It's like a police state," says Dr. Hays. "They come to my office, take my records, decide that I'm not practicing medicine according to rules set down by the government. The government tells you what to do. They say you have to cure a disease in a certain

Fourteen state medical societies have come out against P.S.R.O. The American Medical Association has called for drastic modification or repeal. Senator Carl Curtis has introduced a

Opposition has just begun. If you're against P.S.R.O. invasion of your personal privacy, if you're against a shortage of doctors, if you're against the paralyzing effect a Federal review board would have on your doctor, if you're against lower medical standards to cope with a government created shortage of doctors, let your Congressmen know how you feel about Professional Standards Review Organization and spread the alarm to every Middlesex, village and farm -F.F. ## CIA infiltrates foreign police

WASHINGTON - The Central Intelligence Agency has admitted in an extraordinary private letter to Sen William Fulbright, D-Ark., that the agency has penetrated the police forces of friendly foreign countries.

The remarkable confession by CIA Director William Colby came in the course of a discreet but intensive lobbying effort to keep alive U.S. support for foreign police programs.

Colby told Fulbright that the "relationships" built up with policemen through these programs have been highly useful in "obtaining foreign intelligence'' from foreign constabularies.

The friendly foreign cops, like national police everywhere, are privy to their nation's darkest secrets. And while Colby does not say so, our government sources tell us the foreigners are not above trading a national secret or two for a little CIA cash.

Colby, in his message to Fullbright, delicately skirts the matter of corrupting foreign police, conceding only that the liaisons bring the CIA vital information on "illicit narcotics traffic, international terrorism and hijacking." Colby's covert lobbying was directed against a bill by Sen. James Abourezk, D-S.D., that would kill U.S. aid to foreign police and prison operations. The measure was drafted after shocking police and prison operations. The measure was drafted after shocking abuses were disclosed in South Vietnamese prisons constructed with the U.S. taxpayers' funds.

hand in Vietnam saw the abuses first hand, nevertheless, said, that the Abourezk measure would "appear to restrict activities . . . by the CIA." The main cutback would be in "obtaining foreign intelligence information" from friendly espionage services and agents "within national police forces. . .," Col-

Some of the agents in foreign police forces, Colby indicated, had been developed during "specialized training and other support" given by the CIA. In sum, concluded Colby, the CIA recommended that the Abourezk bill "not be adopted."

Colby's lobbying proved effective. In secret session, the committee permitted the CIA to go on supporting foreign police operations.

Insiders suspect that Colby's effort to defeat the Abourezk provision was actually aimed at preserving the International Police Academy, an institution dear to the hearts of the spooks.

According to Victor Marchetti and John Marks, authors of "The CIA and the Cult of Intelligence," the agency has funded training of foreign police at the academy and recruited spies there.

Colby himself wrote to Abourezk last January that the academy, ostensibly run by the State Department, had "called on us in the past for some support for their program. But," he added, "all such support has been terminated."

We also reported last September that the CIA was involved in a Texas bomb school where the academy trained Boorstin's personal secretary also helped the enterprising prize winner. She typed away on his handwritten manuscript for the better part of a year. In addition, some $15,000 in federal funds were spent to convert a conference room into a private library for the prestigious author.

Just in jest

In times past I have been known to complain about the type of music which today's young folks see fit to inflict upon their elders. But now I have come to the conclusion that actually I didn't know when I was well off. After all, here in America I still have a choice so far as my musical preferences are concerned. Which is certainly a lot more than the citizens of Communist China can say. And personally I'd much rather put up with rock and roll and soul music and far out country western than to be forced to listen day after day to such musical masterpieces as the Number 3 song of the Chinese Hit Parade which is titled: "OH HOW I LOVE TO CARRY MANURE UP THE MOUNTAINSIDE FOR THE COMMUNE!"

Skimpy payments, cheats hurt jobless

WASHINGTON - There is a woman in New York who weekly shows up in her tennis dress to collect unemployment compensation. She tells one and all that her husband is a railroad executive but a skinflint and that in order to redecorate her kitchen, she had to earn her own money. She found a parttime job but was laid off after a year. She makes it loudly clear she doesn't need unemployment compensation, but, well dahling, "I've got it coming to me, don't I?"

Unfortunately, she does, legally anyway. And so do uncounted others who are at least morally abusing unemployment compensation laws. Nobody knows precisely how many people collect unneeded compensation but the Labor Department estimates about 20 per cent of the nation's recipients "are not in dire straits." If so, this works out to about 1.2 million people annually collecting $1 billion on the dole. No doubt some take the money for things other than kitchen redecoration but many others take it only because they've "got it coming."

The said situation is as compensation relief itself-almost 40 years. But it is especially contemptible at a time when millions of genuinely needy unemployed are trying to stretch compensation dollars over an inflationary economy. If 20 per cent of compensation recipients are not in dire straits, 80 per cent are; some 5 million people or more will collect this year, not in tennis dresses but in workclothes and not for kicks but for

"Personally," say another New York receiver, "I'm ashamed to be here but we got to eat."

Eating, actually, is about all the needy recipients can expect from the dole. The compensation system was originally designed to allow unemployed working men and women to meet their basic, non-deferable living expenses but that goal has long since been eclipsed by reality. Compensation varies from state to state but the average state payment today is $75 weekly, enough for food for a family of four or five but not enough for anything else. So, if a man is out of work long these days, and has no supplemental income, he stands the risk of losing his home, car and anything else paid for at regular credit intervals.

The system, moreover, has more fault than the size of its checks. It is a federal-state program, which means it lacks minimum standards and is fraught with inconsistencies. Each state runs its own plan, the Federal government merely, and quietly, oversees. Thus, a workless person can get almost $100 a week in New York but only $60 in Mississippi and he can get 36 weeks coverage in Utah but only 20 in Puerto Rico. At best. many of the unemployed get chicken feed. Many people when employed these days earn in excess of $200 a week but last year, according to one study, the average unemployment compensation was $58.50 a week - "hardly enough," says a Labor Department man, "not hardly.

Some months ago there was talk of reform in Washington. The Nixon administration wanted to force states to overhaul existing programs to meet national guidelines, including bloated benefits. It also wanted to increase the number of people eligible for such compensation (11 million workers, mostly farm and public employes, are not currently protected). Interestingly, Gerald Ford introduced the proposal in Congress. Alas, nothing happened. And reform is not now likely. Social spending ideas have been forced by inflation into full

Still, the optimist must hope. The priorities of inflation can not in good conscience neglect the citizens most affected by inflation. At a minimum, benefits should be extended to all needy unemployed and compensation should be increased to two-thirds a man's salary. Besides this, each recipient should be entitled to at least 26 weeks of help.

Reform would cost, naturally. But perhaps the increases could be lessened by a new public attitude toward unemployment compensation. It is not something to be siphoned by all, only those who need it to live. Tennis dresses, get out of the line: Leave the money there for the men and women for whom it is necessarily and justifiably intended.

Advice on using carpools for school

Is the No. 2 car in a two-car household safe transportation for mothers using a car pool arrangement to take the kids to school? Oftentimes, the answer is "No", says the Insurance information Institute in a back-to-school advisory to

Dad drives a newer model, while usually mothers rely on the second family car as a short-trip utility vehicle. More often than not, this is the clunker with all the miles on it, the gas quzzler that needs new tires and could do with a brake job, new wipers, battery and a front-end alignment. Though it may pass a motor vehicle inspection by a narrow margin, it is simetimes one stop from the junkyard.

In Good Shape

The institute suggests that now is the time to get the second car in shape for a car pool season of worry-free driving. Carpooling can be fun for the kids as well as a time and money saver for

Since some parents are reluctant to join carpools for fear they will expose themselves to a lawsuit, the institute says that in terms of insurance coverage, carpooling mothers probably have nothing to worry about. However, a few words of caution and explanation are in order.

Insurance on a privately owned pool-shared vehicle is placed in jeopardy only if the pool is opeated for a profit. In the situation where everyone in the pool uses his car an equal amount of time there is, of course, no problem.

The problem most often arises when one of the carpool participants does not share in the driving chores and thus pays a regular fee. This, most likely, would not arise with school carpools. However, carpools involving Dad might fall under this si-

To preserve insurance coverage (and parents' peace of mind), the institute points out, any carpool fee should not be more than the fair share of the gas, oil and general depreciation on the car. A simpler way for the nonsharing passengers to reimburse the pool members is to give a gift sometime during the year to the drivers. This divorces the concept of "fee" from the privilege of riding in a carpool and leaves the insurance protection intact.

Again, this more than likely

The marathon race, usually would apply to the office carpool rather than one driven to school. However, simply not having to drive every day may serve as enough reimbursement in either situation.

In the case of carpools involving children, the institute stresses the importance of wearing seat belts not only to protect them in the case of an accident but also to prevent the kind of children's antics that might distract the driver's attention.

Once a carpool participant is convinced his regular auto insurance is valid, his next concern is the amount of coverage he has.

He should consider bodily injury liability coverage with high limits, according to the insitute, since this is what protects him against claims which others-including his "pool" passengers—can bring against him after an accident. As an example, says the institute, limits of $300,000-$500,000 would provide up to $300,000 coverage for one injury in an accident with a $500,-000 per accident limit.

Medical payments is another important coverage. If written with limits of $1,000, each person in the car can receive up to $1,000 for medical expenses incurred within one year of an accident regardless of who is at fault. The irsitute emphasizes that because the dollar limit applies to each passenger separately, there is no need to increase the limits in order to cover additional passengers.

Property damage liability coverage, which protects the motorist against claims resulting from damage to other people's property, is not likely to be affected by involvement in a car pool since the number of passengers would not ordinarily contribute to the amount of property damage done by the car in an ac-

Oswald: "In our bidding, we practically never open a four-card spade suit in first or second position and we try to avoid opening a four-card heart suit.'

Jim: "We also want our partners to assume we have a five-card suit when we open a major in first or second seat, but not quite to the extent that today's North did. Apparently each time the opponents bid spades, North thought his hand had become better.'

Oswald: "West opened the king of spades and shifted to a trump. After this start South knocked out West's ace of diamonds; ruffed one of his spades in dummy some time along the way and made his

The doctor comments

Outdated studies quoted in interview

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB - On recent interview on television Dr. Atkins stated that 100 people were put on 1,000 calories a day of pure carbohydrates, then put on a diet of 1,000 calories of all fats and finally on 1,000 calories of pure protein. The biggest weight loss was recorded on the pure fat diet. Next in line of weight loss was the diet consisting of all protein. But on the pure carbohydrate diet, no weight loss whatsoever was recorded. Remember, these diets were tested in the same 100 people. How then can you explain your statement that a calorie is a calorie and that all calories count?

DEAR READER - I didn't see the T.V. program, but if it is a recent one Dr. Atkins should, and I am sure does, know better. No doubt he is referring, as he did in his book, to the work reported by Kekwick and Pawan in 1956 in Lancet, a British Medical Journal This outdated study was repeated by other scientists and extended to 24 days. The original study you quote was a short term study.

In the longer study the weight loss was exactly the same for carbohydrates, proteins and fats. The experiment has been repeated sevthat if you eat the same number of calories each day for 24 days or longer you will lose the same amount of weight, regardless of whether the calories are from protein, carbohydrate or fat.

Now, why does it make any difference whether it is for 10 days or 24 days? The whole question revolves around losing weight or losing fat. On the protein and fat diets the dieters initially lost a lot of water - not fat - because they didn't have enough carbohydrate in the diet — they had essentially none. That is not fat loss and is temporary. Carbohydrates help the kidney retain normal amounts of needed salt and hence water. So, you are just telling me again about the old water loss gimmick for low carbohydrate diets.

There is a practical point in this. When you are on a diet other than a low carbohydrate diet, don't expect to be

Explaining Nixon's fall

Problem for Russ press

Russians have started to be told about Watergate at last. But the men who run the Soviet press are not going to find it easy to explain the fall of Mr. Nixon.

It is true that, for some time now, Soviet propaganda has dropped its original line, which suggests that any attack against Nixon was an attack against the policy of detente. The Soviet government realized that the matter was serious, and that such an identification of relations between the two countries withrelations between their respective leaders was getting dan-

A series of articles in Pravda and Izvestia about detente did not mention Mr. Nixon's name once. But conditioned reflexes die hard, and other reports appearing elsewhere have continued to show a strong bias against the critics of Richard Nixon. Moscow radio, broadcasting in English, gave the impressions of a Russian who had just visited the United States. He was puzzled by the fuss about Watergate, since "according to the recent Gallup poll 53 per cent of the American people. . . find the Watergate coverage excessive, unfair and misleading". But then, he explained, he saw the offices of the Washington Post, and in one of them was a poster saying "Watergate, the gift that keeps on giving." "Keeps on giving what and to whom?" he asked, and meant it to sting.

No doubt, even with the best of coverages, it would not have been easy to explain to the Soviet people the operation of the American constitution, or the role performed by a hard-hitting press. But Soviet commentators will now want to show

$1 a pound 'baby beef' experiment

CEDARVILLE (UPI) -New cuts of beef will go on sale for $1 a pound next month in some San Francisco area supermarkets, according to the state's No. 1 farm offi-

During a tour of Northern California with Gov. Ronald Reagan, state Food and Agriculture Director C. Brunel Christensen recently said the new meat-to be called "baby beef"-will come from young cattle fed grass rather than

Christensen said baby beef "is an alternative keeping the market supplied with beef and at the same time keeping the price down."

Corn-fed beef now averages about $1.50-a-pound in markets, with choice cuts selling for up to $2.50.

Christensen told UPI the prime cuts of baby beef will cost no more than $1.25 a pound.

The new meat—to be graded by the state agriculture department-is the result of skyrocketing corn prices caused by-the Midwest drought.

California feedlot owners are also faced with uncertain supplies of grass to feed cattle on hand. Because of low prices from processors, feedlot owners have held onto animals rather than sell them at a loss.

Christensen said the marketing of baby beef "will be one of the biggest projects in the country to test the consumer's willingness to eat grass-fed beef."

The animals will be slaughter when they reach about 650 pounds rather than at 1,100 pounds, he said.

When Pain Becomes Habitual It's Time For You To Act

By Dr. Wes Helzer, D.C.

rence in Chiropractic offices to have some new patient say, "Doctor, my shoulders have been paining me for seven or eight months. Our family physician has taken X-rays and says there is no arthritis or bursitis. He feels it is neuritis. I cannot put my arm behind my back. I cannot raise it to comb my hair. I can only do a limited part of my work and that with great discomfort. I am constantly taking sedatives. I have not had a night of natural sleep since it started to pain me. I have had shots. I have had heat and light treatments. I have used different linaments. But nothing seems to make any headway against the constant suffering.

Why do so many neuritis sufferers delay seeking Chiropractic treatment? Is it because they cannot understand the relationship between the spinal column and the pain in the arm?

If so, I can only restate the fact that nerves which extend into the shoulder and arm have their origin in the spinal cord and pass through openings between the bones of the spinal column. The same anatomical facts apply to other places where neuritis is prevalent, such as the nerves that extend between the ribs,

It is a common occur- | nerves that extend up over the back of the scalp or even into the legs. Is this delay because they do not remember having injured the spinal column?

If so, it cannot be emphasized too much that spinal distortions do not always come from a single, traceable injury such as a fall, a lifting strain or collision. Oftentimes, when a Doctor of Chiropractic shows a patient an X-ray of the patient's spinal column and points out the spinal deviations which the X-ray reveals, the patient will ask, "How could that happen? I don't remember ever having strained my back."

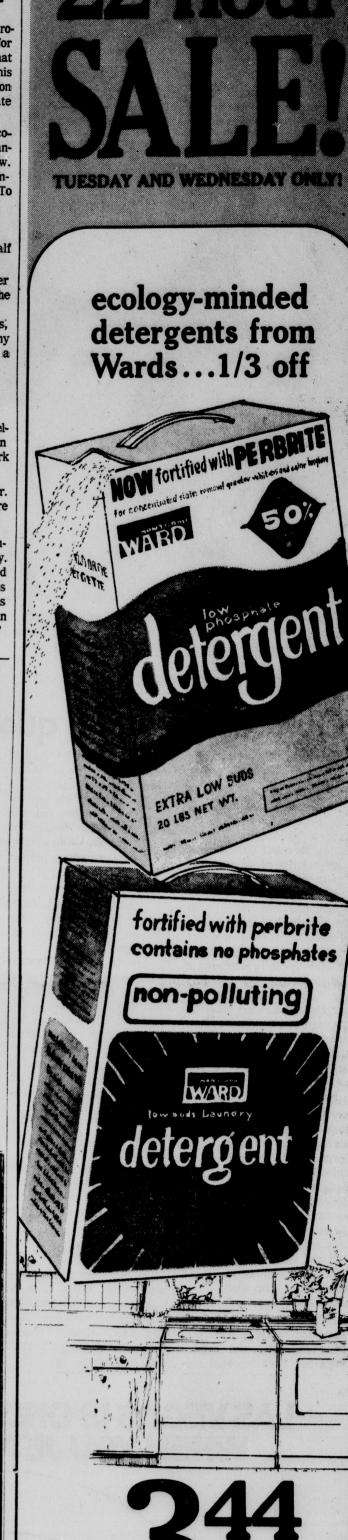

Many of the reasons could be summed up in one word. "HABIT". For the person who does considerable driving each day it might be the habit of resting the arm on the car

For the person who works in the factory it could be the position in which he works at his machine day after day.

The nerves in which neuritis most frequently occurs are so closely related to the spinal column and the probabilities for disturbances of the spinal column to occur are so great that the thought of neuritis should immediately bring thoughts of the spinal col-

Dodgers are new gashouse gang

By DON BRADLEY P-B Staff Writer

LOS ANGELES - The Dodgers looked like they had been in a war. Andy Messersmith looked like he'd been in a street fight. Jimmy Wynn was limping. Davey Lopes was sore and aching as was Bill Buckner. But the spirit was good and the Western Division leaders enjoyed a well-deserved day off today before opening a three-game series with the Chicago Cubs Tuesday. Messersmith was credited with his 15th victory against five losses Sunday as the Dodgers poured it on the St. Louis Cardinals, 9-3. But the Dodger ace was gone long before the finish as was Cardinal starter Alan Foster (7-9). The victory enabled the Dodgers to stay 21/2 games ahead of Cincinnati which defeated Montreal. The loss was most expensive to the Redbirds as it knocked them out of first place and put them a half game behind Pittsburgh in the East. The Pirates beat San Diego twice.

Messersmith hit what should have been a triple leading off the Dodger third, but made the mistake of looking to see where the ball was just as he reached second base.

The Dodger ace stumbled over the bag, fell and tried to dig a ditch with his nose between second and third. He scrambled to his feet but had to return to second.

Messersmith pitched two more innings then left in the sixth after loading the bases and giving up a run-scoring single to Bake McBride.

Mike Marshall came in and pitched magnificently the rest of the way to earn his 19th save. Marshall got Ted Simmons to pop up for the first out and then fanned Ken Reitz and pinchhitter Tim McCarver to leave the bases loaded. He allowed only one infield hit in four innings and struck out four while walking one.

"In order to get out of a situation like that, you have to be lucky," said Marshall. "I threw good pitches the other (Friday) night, but I wasn't as for-

Messersmith didn't avoid the press after the game as he has taken to doing lately. But the husky righthander didn't have much to say either which was understandable. He looked as though he had mixed it up with George Foreman and led with the right side of

He was sporting two fat lips, a ,couple of cuts, a scraped knee and his nose seemed slightly askew.

But he would admit to nothing more than was visible and was somewhat reluctant to talk about even that.

"I've been dissatisfied with pitching lately because my last couple of wins have been sloppy," Messersmith said. "But I'll take 'em. I lost some tough ones early."

"I think Andy will be okay," offered manager Walter Alston. But it's hard to get anything out of him."

When questioned about Wynn who was replaced by Von Joshua in the eighth inning and who was seen limping into the shower, Alston replied, "He's got a sore foot and aggravated it today."

The little centerfielder doubled in two runs in the sixth, his 90th and 91st. He also scored two, his 84th and 85th and walked twice, his 86th and 87th. He has struck out 87 times, a model of Cey has an unusual build to say the least. He appears stocky in his uniform at 51-0, 180 pounds. But seen in an undershirt and shorts, he is heavy thewed and narrow shouldered.

But he has unmistakeable power. The three RBIs give him 83 for the when nobody gets on base. But I think we're well out of the slump now."

Willie Crawford doubled in Wynn and Cey in the first, but it was really Steve Garvey that literally knocked Foster out of the game.

Lopes had opened the game with a single and was sent to second when Foster balked. Buckner moved Lopes over to third with a ground out. Wynn walked and Garvey hit a shot that struck Foster squarely on his right shoulder and spun him around like a

After ministrations from the trainer, the former Dodger and Angel pitched to two more hitters, giving up a tworun double to Crawford and the tworun homer to Cey. Fortunately Foster suffered nothing more than a severe Buckner singled in Messersmith in the fourth and the Dodgers completed the scoring with the three runs in the sixth off former Dodger Claude Osteen and rookie Ray Bare.

The Cardinal runs came in the third on Ken Reitz's single, Mike Tyson's triple and Lou Brock's sacrifice fly and in the sixth when Marshall came in and stopped them cold.

Brock reached base only once and was thrown out by Steve Yeager. Yeager then turned to the St. Louis dugout and made a gesture.

Questioned about it later, the husky receiver explained, "Everytime they get something going, (Bob) Gibson gives me this." With that he brought his fists up to shoulder level and flapped his arms like a bird. "So when I threw out Brock, I gave him the same thing," grinned Yeager. Lopes singled again in the second to. make it eight straight times he had reached base against the Cardinals. He stole his 54th base in the second. Both times Cardinal pitchers kept him diving back to the base with frequent throws. Still, Davey went three-for-four and raised his average to .274. Buckner, who has been fighting the flu, singled in the fourth but was thrown out stealing. With no chance to beat the throw, Buckner tried to take second baseman Ted Sizemore out of the play but only succeeded in tumbling head over heels over the base.

Bring on the forelorn Cubs!

PODGER DATA (Doug Rau (12-6), Don Sutton (12-9) and Messersmith are slated to face Rick Reuschel (12-9). Steve Stone (6-4) and Bill Bonham (10-16) of the Cubbies against whom they are 7-2 this year.

Sunday's win over St. Louis was only the second for the Dodgers over the Redbirds at Dodger Stadium. It allowed the Angelenos to finish regular competition against the Cardinals at the .500 level, 6-6.

Americans ready for showdown

CONCORD, Calif. (UPI) - With seven world records in their own national championships, America's best swimmers are in good shape for big showdown this weekend against East Germany.

Led by Tim Shaw of Long Beach, Calif., who set three world marks, and Shirley Babashoff of Mission Viejo, Cahf., who set two, the U.S. team picked during the weekend to face the awesome East Germans looks more like an Olympic group than one getting ready for a dual meet.

Miss Babashoff proved a real champion by setting world records in the 200 (2:02.94) and 400 (4:15.77) meter freestyles, while Shaw, trying to make everyone forget who Mark Spitz is, set world marks in the 200 (1:57.66), 400 (3:54.69) and 1,500 (15:31.75) meter freestyles as well as an American mark in the 800 freestyle (8:16.80).

The sixth and seventh world records set in the Nationals were by John Hencken of Santa Clara, Calif., in the men's 200 meter breaststroke (2:18.93) and by Jo Harshbarger of Bellevue, Wash., in the women's 800 meter freestyle (8:47.66).

Also, John Naber of Menlo Park, Calif., proved himself a strong challenger for world record holder Roland Matthes of East Germany in the backstroke events by setting American marks of 58.02 in the 100 and 2:03.53 in the 200.

Borg charges into finals

BROOKLINE, Mass. (UPI) - Blond Bjorn Borg, the unassuming wonderchild of tennis, has his adoring followers squirming in their seats.

After racing out to a two-set lead over ninth-seeded Czech Jan Kodes, the 18-year old high school dropout from Stockholm lost his magic touch-temporarily.

He dropped the next two sets and was on the verge of elimination, trailing 5-1 in the final set in the semifinals of the $100,000 U.S. Professional Tennis Championships.

The Halos lost their third straight Sunday, 2-1 to the Yankees. Nolan Ryan (16-14) struck out only seven, but six of them came in the late innings.

28-year old had nothing in his bag of tricks powerful enough to prevent Borg from moving on to the finals tonight, where he plays second seeded Tom Okker, an easy victor over Argentina's Guillermo Vilas.

Borg held his serve, then broke Kodes' and held his own again to trail only 5-4. But Kodes was serving for the match. Borg, now playing inspired tennis, tied it, smashing forehands and backhands that left Kodes helpless.

Borg doublefaulted at deuce of the next game, then watched Kodes whip a backhand winner down the left sideline to break the teenager's serve. But Borg came right back to break Kodes' serve, sending the match into a fifth set 13-point tiebreaker and the crowd into a frenzy.

Kodes won the first point of the tiebreaker but then the tide turned against the Czech until Borg raced across the court to put away a drop shot to end the 3-hour, 15-minute marathon, 7-6, 6-0, 1-6, 2-6, and 7-6.

In comparison to Borg's win, Okker's conquest of Vilas, who had won four of his last six tournaments, was serene.

The 30-year old Flying Dutchman disposed of his 22-year old opponent, 6-4, 6-3, 6-2.

The doubles final tonight matches the first-seeded team of Americans Stan Smith and Bob Lutz, a 6-4, 3-6, 7-5 winner over follow Americans Arthur Ashe and Roscoe Tanner- against eighth seeded West German Hans Pohmann and American Marty Riessen, a 6-4, 6-4 winner over Australians Geoff Masters and Ross Case.

Vikings pick up first win against Bills

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (UPI) -Bob Berry threw two third-quarter touchdown passes to lead defending National Conference champion Minnesota to a 32-13 exhibition victory over the Buffalo Bills Sunday night, the Vikings' first win in three games.

Berry, the Vikings' second team quarterback, completed five passes in as many attempts for 92 yards in the third period and had another touchdown pass called back due to offensive holding. He finished with 17 completions in 27 attempts for 228 yards.

The Vikings grabbed a quick 10-0 lead in the nationally televised game

The Vikings recovered a fumbled punt return early in the first quarter plays later on a on yard dive by Dave Osborn. A 20-yard pass from Berry to John Gilliam and a 14-yard pass to Chuck Foreman highlighted the drive.

Fred Cox kicked a 30-yard field goal early in the second quarter to give the Vikings their 10-0 lead.

Quarterback Joe Ferguson threw a five-yard scoring pass to tight end Paul Seymour for the Bills' first touch-

Early in the second half, Carl Eller broke through the Bills' offensive line to tackle Ferguson for a safety.

Charlie West returned the ensuing punt 11 yards to the Buffalo 48 and, three plays later, Berry hit Gilliam with a 44-yard scoring pass.

Aztecs take NASL title after regulation play

MIAMI (UPI) - The Los Angeles Aztecs outkicked the Miami Toros after the end of regulation play to break a tie Sunday and win the North American Soccer League championship, 4-3.

Under NASL rules, ties are decided by allowing each team five penalty kicks from 12 yards out from an opponent's goal. Los Angeles made all five of its kicks and Miami only four.

The method for deciding the league title brought boos from the small but vocal and partisan Miami crowd of 15,-507 in the vast 80,000 seat Orange Bowl.

Promoters of the event had circulated 300,000 coupons for cut rate seats in an effort to draw a larger crowd but paid attendance was barely half that drawn for a charity benefit soccer game earlier in the year.

The championship match was televised nationally by CBS but blacked out in Florida.

The defense minded Toros dominated play throughout much of the game and scored first with 16:30 gone in the first half when Ralph Wright headed a corner kick from Ron Sharp into the upper right hand corner of the net, over the head of Aztec goalie Blas San-

A penalty kick by Ricardo DeRienzo gave Los Angeles a 1-1 halftime tie.

Miami collected a cheap "auto goal" at 26:30 in the second half during a scramble in front of the Los Angeles net when Aztec defender Ramon Moraldo inadvertently kicked the ball into his own goal.

But Renato Costa of the Aztecs again tied the score at 32:55 of the second half with another penalty kick.

Miami took the lead for the last time with only 3:20 remaining when Esteban Arangiz scored with an assist from Warren Archibald. But NASL rookie of the year Doug McMillan again tied the score at 3-3 with 2:15 left and the game ended in a deadlock, clearing the way for the penalty kick tiebreaker.

The $17,750 check Weiskopf earned made him golf's seventh millionaire, while Bies' $28,500 was his biggest payday by far since he joined the tour in Jerry McGee was alone at 274, Larry Zeigler and Nicklaus were at 275, while Bruce Crampton and Dale Douglass finished at 276.

"I owe this victory, and my earlier wins, to my caddie Andy Martinez," said Miller after the formalities were completed. "I'm not playing in any PGA event, and that goes for the PGA championship itself, unless Andy carries for me."

Martinez, two years Miller's junior, probably will be happy to hear his boss talk like that. He's received 10 per cent of Johnny's winnings and the $50,-000 check earned Sunday boosted Miller's season total to $256,383. Martinez also was given an automobile Johnny won and did not want.

Stacom signs Celt contract

BOSTON (UPI) - Former Providence College star Kevin Stacom has signed a multi-year contract with the Boston Celtics of the National Basketball Association, Celtic General Manager Red Auerbach said Sunday.

Stacom, a 6-5 guard, was the Celtics' second-round choice in last spring's draft of college talent. He averaged 18.5 points per game in his senior year for the Friars.

Stacom was a key cog in the Providence machine that has dominated college basketball in New England during the last four years.

Stacom played for Holy Cross for two years before transferring to Providence.

thinking about money but he's still making a good case to kroll next spring. The quiet, soft-spoken Rudi is universally regarded as one of the most underrated players in the majors. The superb left fielder for the World Champion Oakland A's, he often manages to get overlooked on a team filled with controversial, outspoken characters.

Rudi is the kind of player whose value to a team isn't judged best by measuring sticks like statistics. Yet. when his average dropped to .270 last year after a .305 campaign in 1972, Finley, the team's irascible owner, offered Rudi only $55,000.

Rudi went to arbitration, asking for $67,000—which most baseball observers thought was a rather reasonable request since Reggie Jackson won a salary of $135,in arbitration from Finley. But the arbitrator ruled against Rudi- and he's had to play for Finley's offer of $55,000 this season.

Things should be different next year, though. Rudi is building a nice statistical case for the arbitrator-if it goes to arbitration next year. He boosted his average to

Although Malone denied he had made a decision, a longtime friend, David Paire, said Malone "definitely has decided to sign with Utah."

"This is my decision," Malone said, "nobody else is going to live this." Without mentioning details of the contract offer, Malone said the minimum offer he would accept would be $3.5 million over 11 years.

However, Driesell, who saw the contract, indicated that Malone and his mother, the offer was much lower, saying "I don't think that's enough- $100,000 a year for four years- even with the fringe benefits they're offering his mother."

> The Stars' contract reportedly would provide a new home and $500 a month to Malone's mother.

Guitarist Eric Clapton wants fame as a singer

By BRUCE MEYER The "grass-is-greener" syndrome is very popular among rock folks. Witness Eric Clap-

The role of World's Greaupon him by sincere, if somewhat overzealous, fans) always seemed to chafe a bit on Clapton, particularly after the euphoric Cream years in the late 60's. He wanted to be known as a singer, but others always seemed to outshine him on the vocals. Not that he has a bad voice; it's quite pleasant, really. But then it's not all that awe-inspiring, either. It's been nearly four years since Clapton released a new studio album (the last was "Derek and the Dominoes"), and as usual we find him pursuing that elusive butterfly of song. The album is "461 Ocean Boulevard" (RSO SO-4801), named after the house Eric and the gang occupied while cutting the album in Miami. It's a nice, easy going album, though hardly the kind of thing you'd want to wait four years for.

Sandwiched between two strong rockers, most of "461"

Cream, and very little Derek. Throughout, the arrangements put most of the burden on the vocals-and Eric does all the lead vocals. There's is delicate and laid back-no very little of Clapton's legitimately legendary guitar work. Instrumental artistry is present, to be sure, but decidedly in the background.

Best tunes on the album are consistently the oldies -the traditional "Motherless Children," Johnny Otis' "Willie and the Hand Jive," a great Elmore James song, "I Can't Hold Out," and Robert Johnson's "Steady Rollin' Man." Clapton's best work on this album (with a bit of help from the ubiquitous Carl Radle) is the arrangements on these tunes. As for Clapton's singing well, it's fine. But not likely to set the world on its proverbial ear as his guitar once did. His is not a particularly strong voice, and it comes across best on the quieter tracks, notably his own "Let It Grow," a beautiful tune that could make a fine single.

Infation smothers hope

Another gold rush unlikely

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Skyrocketing inflation, the harsh reality of the 1970s, is smothering rekindled hopes for another 49er Gold Rush into the West's famous Mother Lode country.

"The cost of everything that goes into mining and milling of gold is out of sight, even if the miners can get it," said Harold Stager, with the Office of Mineral Exploration of the U.S. Geological Survey.

Earlier, mining experts anticipated a dramatic upsurge in the search for gold as the precious metal soared to record world prices. Renewed activity was expected particularly in the thousands of old and forgotten mines of Nevada and California.

The legalization of private bullion ownership by Americans, prohibited since the United States went off the gold standard in 1934, was also expected to help the resurgence.

But while the price of gold increased, climbing as high as $180 an ounce, the mining did not. Now the experts believe the right to own and deal in gold, signed into law Wednesday by President Ford, will have as little impact.

"I don't expect to see a start up of new mining properties when people have the right to own gold," said Henry Colen, vice president of Co.

"Mining is a field where you have to contend with the facts of life, and inflation has hit the cost of mining just like the price of gold," he said.

Homestake, with its namesake mine in South Damota, is the largest primary producer of gold in the Western Hemisphere.

Stager said mine operators who paid $600 a ton for steel rails a year ago, "can't get it today" for $1,000. When they

The average American worker will work 2 hours and 38 minutes of each day this year just to pay his taxes —or one minute per day longer than in 1073

Tax Foundation, Inc., which made the estimate, said it means that if that worker puts in a 40-hour, 5-day week, he will work all of Monday and until 2 p.m. Tuesday just to get his tax bill paid.

WE WANT TO SELL CARS. YOU WANT TO SAVE MONEY.

IT'S THAT SIMPLE.

Right now, many Chevrolet dealers are offering year-end savings on in-stock Novas.

Nova is Chevy's sensible, economical compact.

The Nova 2-door with a six-cylinder engine is our lowest priced compact.

It's sensible, comfortable, basic transportation for six people.

In a 3-door wagon-like Hatchback, the Nova 6 lets you carry things around comfortably, too. In a 4-door Nova 6, rear seat passengers enjoy comfort and easy entry while you enjoy the economy of Nova's proved six-cylinder engine. And you get the confidence that comes from our 13 years of experience in building Novas.

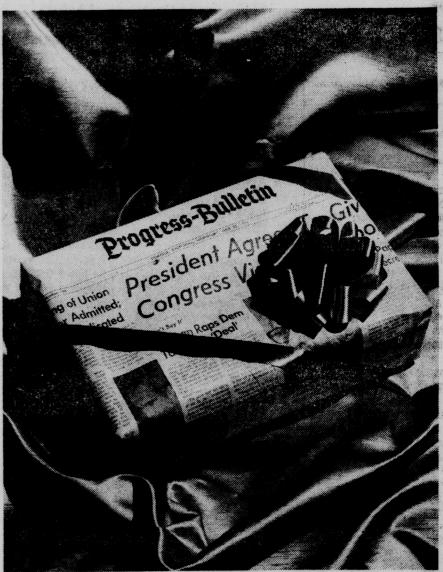

Ask your Chevrolet dealer about year-end savings on a 1974 Nova now. Chevrolet wants to sell cars, you want to save money.

That's why Chevrolet's Year-End Savings Plan makes sense.

Chevrolet makes sense for America.

much more rewarding.

DEAR DR. BROTHERS: My 18-year-old son doesn't use drugs but he worries my wife and me because he's so interested in the subject. We have many discussions about this but it seems to be his favorite topic for any dinner table dialogue. He seems to view drug-users with disgust but also he's fascinated and attracted by what he feels is the romance of the drug

Since I am a member of Alcoholics Anonymous and my wife is a member of A-Anon, the organization for the spouses of alcoholics, our conversation sometimes seems to center around nothing but drugs of one kind or another. I keep wondering if my own alcoholism will make my son more likely to become a drugabuser and if there's anything unsual about his fascination with the subject. -W.O.

Dear W.O.: Unfortunately, television and movies often deal with the subject of drugs in an almost seductive manner. The adventure, the daring and the romance of the drug scene seem to appeal to many healthy teenagers.

Adventure, romance and daring are always stimulating

As an alcoholic who has stopped drinking, you can stress the lack of romance in the hangovers and the physical and mental damage to the body. There's really not much excitement or adventure in an overdose of drugs or in the violence and pain that accompanies so much of the real scene. Often, the fictional treatment is like a child's fairy tale compared to the real thing. You might help your son by pointing this Drug treatment centers report that they have encountered a relatively new species of heroin user, a kind of pseudo-junkie who is hooked on the "romance" of the drug, but not on the drug itself. According to Dr. Edward Senay, director of the Illinois Drug Abuse Program, this pseudo addict demonstrates what addiction really is-an identity, "a way of organizing experience short of madness.' some feeling of importance.

The fact that you and your son discuss drugs and communicate what you think and how you feel, in general, indicates that your son's interest in drugs is probably a passing phase. It is good that he feels free to talk out his feelings about drugs with you and your wife. An adolescent who close enough and free enough with his parents to be able to talk about these things rarely becomes a user.

If you still feel concerned about your son's interest in this subject, you might suggests that he attend some meetings of teen groups of Alcoholics Anonymous for many of these members have also had unpleasant experiences with other drugs. Several sessions with any of these groups would probably make it painfully clear that there's no real romance in the drug world.

November wedding scheduled

Miss Roseland Marie Harding and Loyd Leroy Rogers will be married on Nov. 2.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earle Harding of Pomona is a 1974 graduate of Garey High School. She plans to attend Mt. San Antonio College this fall.

Her fiance is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Lorenz of Pomona. He graduated from Venice High School in 1963 and served three years in the U.S. Marine Corps.

Mr. Rogers is employed as a truck driver.

Authoress to address meeting

Author Charlotte Holt Clinebell of Claremont will discuss issues relate to women on Sept. 8 at 7:30 p.m. at the First Congregational Church, 466 E. Walnut, Pasadena.

Mrs. Clinébell is a psychotherapist and lecturer with extensive experience in marriage, family and child counseling. She is the author of "Meet Me in the Middle" and co-author, with her husband, Dr. H.J. Clinebell of "The Inner Marriage."

Her appearance is sponsored by Women Committed to Women (WCW), an ecumenical organization which is composed of women from nine major denominations who believe there is a need to confront women's issues in a theological context.

All women are invited to the free program.

Johnny Wonder's OUESTION CORNER

The odd-looking secretary bird is a South African bird of prey.

The reason for this bird's name is easy to guess be-cause of the tuft of long, stiff feathers that stick out from the back of its head. The tufts resemble the quill pens that old-time secretaries and clerks once carried behind their ears.

The secretary bird has a long neck and very long legs. It is about four-feet tall and its plumage is gray and black. It usually prefers to run instead of fly and is the only bird of prey that hunts on foot.

An inhabitant of Africa's grassy plains, the secretary bird feeds chiefly on snakes, which it kills by stamping on the snake with its strong feet and biting it with its hooked

In their native home, farmers often tame secretary birds and keep them to kill rats and mice. Another name for the secretary bird is "serpent eagle."

Here's wonderful news! A BRITANNICA Atlas, pocket radio, camera, World Almanac globe or other fine prize will be awarded to the first youngster sending in a question used here. Send your question and your age to Johnny Wonder, (c/o this newspaper), Box 1335 (DA), Santa Cruz, CA 95061.
